DOWNTOWN CREWS DEMONSTRATE “CLEAN WATER” MESSAGE

AROUND THE CITY

Downtown Crews Demonstrate “Clean Water” Message

Keeping the downtown area clean and attractive is no small feat. The City’s Facilities crews are out every day tidying up sidewalks, streets, public structures and the park block areas.

As one crew member was pressure-washing Kesey Plaza on Tuesday, passersby may have noticed a new sign with a “Keeping water clean for us all” message. The sign is a good reminder that Eugene residents and business owners share the common value that clean water is important to protect in this community. That translates to everyone trying to keep pollution out of storm drains and ultimately, local waterways.

The City’s Public Works Department and Central Services Facilities Division collaborate on putting information signs where cleaning activities are taking place. This also allows the Downtown Facilities crews to demonstrate good examples of ways to protect storm drains from runoff. The City’s “clean water” education page, www.happyrivers.org, is also listed on the sign as a resource for those interested in learning more.
