MovingAhead Open House: Opportunity to Provide Input on Major Eugene Streets

An open house is set for the MovingAhead project, a joint collaboration between the City of Eugene and Lane Transit District (LTD) that is looking at how to redesign major streets in Eugene to better accommodate all modes of travel, including transit, walking and biking. Ideas being considered through MovingAhead include potential changes to both EmX and regular buses, and improvements to sidewalks and bikeways that could make it easier to get around the community.

At the open house people can review the alternatives for changes to the corridors along Highway 99, River Road, Coburg Road, 30th Avenue to Lane Community College, and Martin Luther King, Jr. Boulevard.

The MovingAhead Alternatives Review Open House will be held Monday, Mar. 7, from 5 – 7 p.m., at the Eugene Public Library, 100 West 10th Avenue. Accessibility arrangements, interpreter, and translation services can be made for all MovingAhead events with 48 hours' notice. For more information, call 541-682-6100 (voice) or 7-1-1 (TTY).

For those who can't attend the open house, go to www.movingahead.org to review project materials and provide input. The online review will be accepted from Mar. 4 - 18.

After confirming the range of alternatives, the MovingAhead team will conduct a more detailed study of the costs, benefits, and impacts of each alternative. Additional input will be collected from the community before a preferred alternative is selected for each corridor in fall 2016.
