Following up on the success of this month’s property viewing, detectives are holding another opportunity for the public to reconnect with their stolen property recovered in a search warrant on December 5, 2012. On Saturday, February 9, victims of property crimes who were unable to attend the first viewing are invited to come by and see if they can be reunited with any of their stolen property.

Multiple truckloads of stolen property were seized from two locations. Among the many items seized were rototillers, lawn mowers, and air compressors, yard tools such as leaf blowers, weed eaters and chainsaws. Detectives removed multiple construction tools, tool boxes with hand tools, multiple corded and cordless tools including woodworking tools compound miter saws laser level and pneumatic nail guns.

Included in the property seized was also electronics, guitars and amplifiers, even motorcycles, bicycles, riding lawn mowers and several outboard boat motors. Detectives, property control staff and crime analysis staff have been working to identify the property’s rightful owners and are now prepared to invite members of the public who have been the victim of a property crime to come and view the remaining property.

Those planning on attending the viewing will need to have filed a police report (with any local agency) prior to the date that the items were seized and will need to bring a copy of the report, or have the case number with them in order to retrieve their stolen property.
It is important to note that it need not be a Eugene Police case report as it is likely that some of the stolen property was taken from throughout the Lane County area.
